SALARY

Dependant on experience

Would you like to be part of a company with the energy of a start-up, but which competes with 'The Big Four' for clients?

Are you curious about the world? Can you think through problems from many different angles, and come up with and test hypotheses to reach possible solutions?

We're looking for ambitious and creative people who want to play an integral part in making things happen.

WHO WE ARE

We are a boutique consultancy specialising in business design, information, digital and technology, helping our clients transform their organisations and services. We have a diverse client portfolio across the public, private and not-for profit sectors. Some of our most recent clients include large government departments, charities and technology companies.

Our tight-knit team have experience working within a range of industries and bring a diverse set of skills and experiences. Some of the qualities that make our Analysts stand out include an ability to apply their skills and experience to a wide range of areas, to pick things up quickly, and to grapple with unknowns and ambiguity. We make the complex, simple.

THE ROLE

You'll work closely with our Analysts and Project Managers (and directly with the client's teams) to help our clients transform their organisations and the way they deliver services. You'll be working in a company where no two days are the same.

We look to rotate people around a variety of roles across our three main pathways of Analysis, Delivery and Business Partnering to help you shape your own career and so that you can build up the skills you will need to perform well. A successful analyst will have a combination of analysis, delivery and business partnering skills. We take an innovative, personalised coaching based approach to learning and development, giving you the tools you need to operate at the highest level.

As well as delivering high quality work for our clients, we want you to help us build the business, and look for opportunities where we can add value by thinking in an entrepreneurial and imaginative way.

WHO WE'RE LOOKING FOR

We are looking for ambitious people with inquiring minds, and an ability to gather and interpret information from a range of sources to develop logical, and creative solutions to business problems. You'll need to be well organised and good at working independently, as well as with other people. A positive outlook, enthusiasm and willingness to learn are essential.

We're looking for candidates who will be good at:

- Gathering and interpreting complex information from a range of sources.
- Presenting your findings and ideas (both verbally and in writing) in a structured way that sets out complex issues very simply and explains your logic.
- Being adaptable and responsive, thinking on your feet. You'll use a range of analysis techniques and tools (that you bring with you, or that you learn with us) to gain actionable insight into how to resolve problems and identify transformational business opportunities.
- Working with people to create innovative, workable ideas that can challenge the way that they see things.
- Utilising your organisational and communication skills to manage work in a fast-paced environment.
- Building relationships quickly with lots of people from different backgrounds.

There is real scope for you to shape the future direction of the company, by leading teams and assignments, and taking responsibility for shaping our services, developing our ways of working and marketing what we can do. In return, we will offer a competitive package, and the chance to work on cutting-edge assignments with a range of clients. If you'd like to kick-start the next chapter of your career, we'd love to hear from you.

This role will require you to apply SC Security Clearance. A key requisite for SC clearance is that you should be able to provide evidence of 5 years' recent residency in the UK.
